The Salmon Industry.

The Salmon Industry.

A very serious condition confronts the salmon industry, especially on the Columbia river. The Ontario hatchery on Snake river obtained $1,000,000 eggs in 163, 5,000,000 in 1931, 1,000,000 in 1935, and this year is doing very poorly. The egg take of the Upper Clackamas hatchery has diminished steadily, and last year the Cagadero power dam shut it out.

Manifestly, something must be done in the way of law-making, for regulation of fishing and shortening of the open season. In these two respects, there is now little law to enforce. The fishing interests have induced the Legislatures of two States to after the law, one session after another, until they can catch fish just as long as there are any worth taking. They had the closed Sunday abolished, and have defeated efforts to curb the various kinds of gear. Wardens have little to do, except continue office routine.—Portland Oregonian.

The phat the fronts will be persisted in until successful.
